Spring 2016, Session II, Bay Minette, Wallace/Admin A-206
Dates: 2/15, 22, 29, 3/7, 14
5:30-9:30

INSTRUCTOR’S NAME: Rev. Bobby Williams

CONTACT INFORMATION: bobby.williams@hawks.huntingdon.edu

Course Description
An examination of the basic doctrines of the Christian Church as they find expression in contemporary theological discourse. Topics include the doctrine of God (Trinity), Christology, soteriology, anthropology, and ecclesiology.

Course Objectives
a. Students will become familiar with the basic categories of systematic theology (revelation, creation, attributes of God, Christology, soteriology, etc.), measured by written work and class discussion. Appreciation for the diversity of voices in both historical and contemporary theology will be developed.
b. Students will develop interpretative and analytical skills with which to read and discuss theology.
c. Students will begin to develop a personal stance on the various theological topics covered in the course.
d. Students will be able to identify the practical significance of different theological positions for Christian living, the life of the church, and for the role religion plays in society.

Required Texts
3. The Bible  NRSV or NIV translations are strongly recommended.

Theological Reflection Journal
Each week you must write 1-2 pages in your theological reflection journal in which you reflect upon the readings for the week. There are many ways to do this. You might ask questions that need clarification in class. You might talk about something you found interesting or compelling. You may wish to criticize the readings or challenge claims. You may wish to relate the readings to your own tradition, reason, experience and/or culture. You might engage in some exegesis of a Biblical passage that relates to the readings. In some way, engage the readings. You may wish to argue for or against one of the views expressed in the Boyd and Eddy text or you may wish to answer one of the reflection questions in the back of the Guthrie textbook. The grade will be based upon the amount of thought and effort that went into the entries, the quality of the writing, and the degree to which you engaged the readings.

Accommodation of Special Needs
Huntingdon College makes every reasonable accommodation for disabilities that have been processed and approved through our Disability Services Committee in accord with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. In order to request disability-related services at Huntingdon College, students must self-identify to the Disabilities Intake Coordinator, Camilla Irvin, and provide appropriate and up-to-date documentation to verify their disability or special needs. After the accommodations have been approved by the Disability Services Committee, the 504 Coordinator, Dr. Lisa Olenik Dorman, will notify your professor(s) of the committee’s decision. If you have any questions regarding reasonable accommodation or need to request disability-related services, please contact Disability Services at (334) 833-4577 or e-mail at disabilityservices@huntingdon.edu.

Medical Considerations - If you have a medical condition that may preclude participation in this course or any aspect of this course, the College suggests you consult your physician. The College will work with you based upon physician recommendations to find the best means to address any concerns.

Title IX Statement - Huntingdon faculty are committed to supporting students and upholding the College's non-discrimination policy. Under Title IX, discrimination based upon sex and gender is prohibited. If you experience an incident of sex- or gender-based discrimination, we encourage you to report it. While you may talk to a faculty member, understand that as a "Responsible Employee" of the College the faculty member MUST report to the college's Title IX Coordinator what you share. If you would like to speak with someone who may be able to afford you privacy or confidentiality, there are people who can meet with you. Faculty can help direct you or you may refer to Huntingdon's Sexual Misconduct Policy at http://www.huntingdon.edu/student-life/student-service/misconduct. You do not have to go through the experience alone.

Absences, Tardiness, and Early Departures
All students are required to attend the first session. Those who do not attend the first session will be automatically dropped from the course. Students with more than one absence will receive an "F" for the course. Since this class meets only five times, missing a single class meeting is equivalent to missing three weeks of a regular term. If you cannot attend a class you must let the instructor know via email as soon as possible. In case of absences you are responsible for obtaining all handouts and assignments. Tardiness may result in a deduction in your class participation grade. Excessive tardiness and/or early departures may count as an absence.

Academic Honesty
Plagiarism is literary theft. Failure to cite the author of any language or of any ideas which are not your own creation is plagiarism. This includes any text you might paraphrase, as well. It is not consistent with the College Honor Code, or with scholarly expectations, to submit work which is not the product of your own thinking and research. Severe penalties will result upon the submission of any work found to be plagiarized, including potential failure of the entire course. For purposes of documentation MLA and APA are acceptable.

Late Assignments
No shows fail the assignment. It is expected that the students fulfill their assignments on the date they are scheduled to do so. Students with illness or other problems that prevent them from attending class on the day a presentation or written assignment (including a test and/or exam) is due must contact their instructors PRIOR to the deadline via Huntingdon College email with supporting documentation to request an extension or a make-up. In most cases, missed assignments are logistically difficult to make-up while maintaining the integrity of the module. In rare cases, approval to make-up an assignment may be granted at the discretion of the faculty member based on the seriousness of the circumstance and on the supporting evidence provided by the student. Contacting a fellow class member does not substitute for contacting the instructor.

Week 1 [Scripture]

Topics Introduction to Theology, Revelation, Scripture, and Authority

Readings (To be completed prior to class beginning)
